A MOVE has been started at St. Clairsville to have the citizens of Richland township raise a fund for the purpose of erecting a monument upon the birthplace of the late Wm. Windom, of Minnesota, at one time United States Senator, and at the time of his death Secretary of the Treasury under President Harrison. The famous secretary was born in a log cabin which stood south of Lloydsville, in 1837, and at an early age was taken by his parents to the West. The idea of marking the spot where the cabin stood is to be highly commended.

A Billion Dollars at Stake.
 There are now in the savings-banks of the United States deposits amounting to nearly $2,000,000,000, the property of nearly 5,000,000 depositors, the individual accounts averaging a little under $400 each. Every dollar of that stupendous sum was, when deposited, worth 100 cents. Every dollar of it is today worth 100 cents. But the moment free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 should go into force every dollar would be reduced in value to about 50 cents, and nearly a billion dollars of the common people's money would be lost. The man who had deposited a hundred dollars worth 100 cents each would be able to draw out only a hundred so-called dollars worth 50 cents each. The average deposit would still nominally be $400; actually it would be only $200. The aggregate for the whole country would still be $2,000,000,000 in name; in practical value and purchasing power it would be only $1,000,000,000.

This would affect all parts of the country. The majority of depositors are in the East, but there are myriads in the West and South. Iowa has nearly 80,000 depositors, with accounts aggregating nearly $30,000,000; Minnesota 43,000, with $10,000,000; South Carolina 17,500, with $4,000,000; California 103,000, with $127,000,000. What do these depositors think of the scheme for scaling down their accounts one-half? How do they propose to vote upon it? A billion dollars are at stake. Not the money of the "gold bugs," of millionaires, of National banks, but the hard-earned savings of the common people. Is such a sum to be sacrificed in order that a ring of gold-contract-making silver speculators may be enriched?—N. Y. Tribune.

Why Not Ten-Cent Dollars?
 We all know that this country can sustain a limited amount of silver currency at a ratio of sixteen to one, because it is already doing it. But if it can sustain an unlimited amount coined at the same ratio, why can it not sustain it at a ratio of three to one? In other words, why can it not strike from our ten cent piece the inscription "one dime" and make it "one dollar"? If this be practicable—and it seems to me that the one is as practicable as the other—is not the proposition of unlimited sixteen to one an extravagant and useless waste of the most valuable commodity which the world has ever known? It appears that there are greater possibilities open to the advocates of the white metal than even they have as yet conceived.—T. F. Rice.

Vote with Your Eyes Open.
 Have you a bank account of $200 or $300? Vote for free coinage and you vote to withdraw only half the value of your deposits. This conclusion is as certain as is the fact that 50 cent dollars will buy only half as much as 100 cent dollars.

Why Gold Is Exported.
 A single white metal standard paper says that gold is going out every week, and that but for silver the country soon would be destitute of coin. If it were not for silver, gold would stay at home.—Chicago Chronicle.

SLOW WORK.

Senator Allen, of Nebraska, Selected as Permanent Chairman.

The "Middle of the Road" Men Storm and Threaten in Vain.

Bryan Stock is Going Up in the Populist Convention—The Committee on Credentials Makes a Partial Report—The Illinois Contest Cases Taken Up.

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—When the populist got together in convention hall Wednesday evening they found themselves in trouble. No provision had been made for lighting the hall. The only light came from the gas lamps of the delegates. The delegates provided by the newspaper correspondents and the telegraph companies for their own use served to make the darkness visible and more picturesque. There was a full attendance on the floor and many spectators in the galleries. For half an hour humorously-inclined people in the galleries and on the floor indulged in jokes at the expense of the populists, and jeers and college yells prevailed. Some attempts at explanation were made from the chairman's platform; but they were received with derision and hootings. Finally some of the delegates started to sing the national anthem. Others joined in and the band played the accompaniment, and this restored better humor. The band continued to play and it was promised from the chairman's stand that light would soon be forthcoming. The real explanation of the trouble was that whoever was in charge of the arrangements had neglected to engage service for the evening for the electric light company until late Wednesday evening, when it was too late to turn on the current without great risk, as preliminary tests of the wires were necessary. Some suggestions of adjournment were made, but they met with no favor—the crowd rather enjoying the darkness and the fun.

CONVENTION HALL, ST. LOUIS, July 23.—Chairman Butler called the populist convention to order at 10:10. Rev. Mr. Smith offered prayer. The chairman announced that the committee on credentials was not ready to report. The roll was then called to fill the committee on permanent organization. At 11 a. m. a banner bearing the words "Middle of the Road" was carried into the hall amid applause. The announcement of the name of Gen. Weaver, of Iowa, as member of committee on resolutions was received with applause. The names of the proposed committeemen having been all sent in, those on permanent organization were requested by the chairman to retire for consultation. From the gallery behind the stand a flight of blue cards descended on which were printed a financial plank proposed for the middle of the road people by three of the Arkansas delegates—George M. Jackson, W. Rollison and Isaac M. McCracken. This plank is in these words: "We demand a national treasury note issued by the general government, receivable for all public debts and a full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, and loaned direct to the people through postal and other governmental banks at cost, for the benefit of the people. And the purchase and coinage of such amount of gold and silver bullion at the rate of 16 to 1 as may be necessary to pay the debt of the government, which are made payable in coin. We demand that the volume of money shall speedily increase to an amount necessary to transact the business of the country on a cash basis."

Mr. Crawford, of Kansas, moved that delegates to the silver convention be admitted to the galleries when wearing their talises. This was met with loud cries of opposition. Jerry Simpson urged the adoption of the motion but an effort was made to cry him down. Chairman Butler declared him to be out of order and ruled the motion to admit silver delegates out of order.

On a call of states in the committee on permanent organization the overwhelming sentiment appeared to be in favor of Allen, and it is probable he will be named as permanent chairman.

Half an hour after the retirement of the committee on permanent organization for consultation a message was received from it saying that the committee, from nine states were absent. The chairman announced the fact to the convention and requested the absentees to report immediately to the committee room.

At 11:35 the committee on platform left the convention to meet at the Lindell house. Eugene Debs entered the convention and was greeted with applause. Mr. Skinner, of North Carolina, made a point of order that the convention had not yet permanently organized and business was not in order.

The committee on credentials has reversed the action of their national committee in all contests except Colorado. The vote in the committee on permanent organization of the election of a permanent chairman of the convention resulted as follows: Allen, of Nebraska, 23; Butler, of North Carolina, 5; Champion, of Maine, 14. A motion to make Allen's nomination unanimous was opposed by the delegates from North Carolina.

Several motions to take a recess were voted down or ruled out of order in most eccentric fashion with regard to parliamentary law but finally one to take a recess till 3 p. m. was successful and the temporary chairman at 12:45 declared the convention adjourned until that hour. The convention reassembled during the hottest part of an oppressively hot day. The committee on credentials was still uneasy and the services of the band had to be again called into requisition to fill up the tedious time of waiting. It was 3:30 when Senator Butler called the convention to order, and stated that the committee on credentials was prepared to make a partial report. Thereupon Mr. Ward, all of California, chairman of the committee, came to the stand and submitted a majority report recommending that the delegates be recognized in all the uncontested cases; that in cases of the first seven Illinois congressional districts both contestants and contestes be seated with the right to cast half votes; and that in the case of Colorado the delegates known as the Patterson delegates be seated and cast the full votes of the state. That part of the report for admission of the delegates whose seats were uncontested was agreed to.

THE FLOOD.

Reports From All Points in the East-Central Part of Kentucky Shows Heavy Property Loss.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 22.—Information of losses by the flood of Tuesday morning still comes in.

The biggest property damage was probably at Pence's saw mills. The supply of logs were tied up in great rafts on the river just below where Benson empties, every log representing more than 25,000 feet of lumber, were swept away. The iron rails for 50 feet back of the abutment of the Louisville and Nashville bridge were twisted in two and dragged down stream with the bridge. Right below the boarding on this side was where Jim Sudduth lived. He is a hero to-day. His rescue of his wife and children was a brave and daring one. The railroad embankment next the pier kept back the floods at that point higher than the roof of his little home. The water and boarding timbers broke open his little stable and let out his horse. When he swam out of the house to his stable through 5 feet of water his horse was gone. He swam to the higher railroad track, climbed a hillside at an angle of 45 degrees and brought down a neighbor's horse. On his back through the torrent at the first streaks of daylight Sudduth made his way to his little home. His wife had climbed with the children to the roof. He took his wife first, and placing her on the railway track between the two streams, went back on the horse and got all three of his little children.

Dispatches from all points in the east central portion of the state report great loss. Bridges on the Louisville and Nashville railroad east of here were washed out and traffic is at a standstill. Farmers in this section suffered very heavy loss, entire fields of wheat and corn being swept away. The loss to lumbermen along the Kentucky river will be enormous, several mills and thousands of logs having been swept away. At Shelbyville Clear creek overflowed the lower portion of the town and put out the fires in the gas works. At Hardinsburg the water stood five feet deep in the Baptist and Methodist churches. In Louisville over five inches of rain has fallen during the past 24 hours, flooding cellars and railroad tracks and breaking huge sewers. The Louisville and Nashville is the greatest sufferer, the tracks which connect Cincinnati with the main division being under water.

Match Between Gaudaur and Stansbury.
 NEW YORK, July 22.—Negotiations were completed Tuesday through the Police Gazette for a match race between Jake Gaudaur and James Stansbury to decide the single scull championship of the world. They will row over the Thames course from Putney to Mortlake on September 7 next for $7,000. Gaudaur will leave for England immediately after the Halifax regatta next week.

A Duel to the Death in a Wood.
 DANVILLE, Ky., July 22.—Bud Pendergrass, of Parksville, gave himself up to the officers Wednesday morning and confessed to having killed the notorious Negro, John Thomas, of this city. The body of Thomas was found in the woods near Parksville Tuesday, with a bullet hole in the breast. Pendergrass claims to have done the work in a desperate fight, to which there were no witnesses.

A Female McKinley Club.
 PORTLAND, Ind., July 22.—The women of this city organized a Woman's McKinley club of 50 members, and they will take part in the campaign. The officers are Mrs. W. D. Sebring, president; Mrs. E. J. Marsh, vice president; Mrs. Dell Palmer, secretary, and Mrs. Thornton J. Taylor, treasurer.

Convicted of Manslaughter.
 SPRINGFIELD, O., July 22.—In the case of Mrs. Maggie Wilson, charged with the killing of her husband, Arthur Wilson, the indictment being murder in the second degree, the jury reported a verdict of manslaughter at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The "X" Rays at Washington, C. H.
 WASHINGTON, C. H., O., July 22.—Miss Grace Hamilton, daughter of Dr. E. C. Hamilton, had an X-ray photograph of dislocated bones in her leg taken and the bones properly set. She has carried a crutch for years, but expects to be able to give it up now.

Martin T. Krueger Nominated for Congress.

RENSAELER, Ind., July 22.—Martin T. Krueger, was Wednesday afternoon nominated on the tenth ballot for congress from the Tenth district by the democratic congressional convention, after an exciting fight.
